Status

The assigned task of Assignment 2 Part B wasn't easy to complete. Hence, I had to reach several technical palms I had never accessed before. I spend more than 72 hours long developing a period together. However, we both managed to share our responsibilities depending on our strengths which are well practiced. I was responsible for developing the Server and some client GUIs. We managed both the local project management system and GitHub. Endless group meetings encourage us to fix our issues and light up the developing path while discussing. Hence, we managed to deliver a well-stable final product in the end.
